AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL STATEMENT

Your statement is very important. The Scholarship Committee uses the statement to learn more about you as an individual and to understand your experiences, accomplishments and points of view. This statement gives you an opportunity to discuss attributes and experiences that may not be evident through a review of your academic records. Write a statement about yourself on separate paper using no more than two sheets of paper. Below is a list of items that you might consider covering in your statement.

1. Discuss your interest in your intended major, how your interest in the field developed stating your educational and career goals.
2. Provide information about your family and work experience. List any unusual family or personal circumstances of special consideration.
3. Provide information about your school and your involvement in community service.
4. State why it is important for you to receive a scholarship. How will a scholarship help you complete your educational goal?
5. Elaborate on any “qualifying statement” you have made. (For example, if you select the qualifying statement that you have a career goal to be a teacher, include that information in your statement.)

Special Circumstance: (Please check on the line below to be considered)

_____ I feel that I have a special hardship (family, personal, financial or other) that I wish the scholarship committee to consider. I have written about my situation in my autobiographical statement.
