~DAY BY DAY ITINERARY~

Ever since the first immigrants saw Death Valley, fantastic tales have been told of its incredible temperatures and enormous riches. But exaggeration is inevitable in describing this narrow valley of strange, exciting beauty, cradled between towering, multi-colored mountains. Now comes your opportunity to enjoy the inviting and alluring Valley that so many before have visited. To walk on it's soil, to gaze upon its eclectic geological formations, to relax under its horizon. Welcome to Death Valley.

Badwater, Death Valley

♦DAY 1 ~ ARRIVE IN DEATH VALLEY♦

A place of unexpected contrasts, this valley of sand dunes and salt has an abundance of natural wonders that cannot be found anywhere else in the world. We'll explore the wealth of geological phenomena this vast area has to offer at a delightful time of year, while staying within a lush oasis. On board throughout this tour is geographer, Dennis Napier, who from the beginning of the tour will begin to educate on the areas we are passing through and our destination, Death Valley. Dennis is a former professor of geography at Long Beach City College and his extensive knowledge and diverse background will make your journey an enlightening one. After leaving from our departure points this morning, we'll make a stop for lunch before arriving in the Valley in the late afternoon. Check into the Furnace Creek Ranch, our accommodations for the next two nights. The Ranch offers a spring-fed swimming pool and tennis courts and is situated in a lush oasis in the heart of the National Park and surrounded by the vast desert. The Ranch, which takes you back to the early West, has been an operating business since 1881 and was the original home of the now famous Borax 20-Mule teams.

Death Valley salt flats

Manley Beacon

Scotty's Castle

♦DAY 2 ~ UPPER DEATH VALLEY♦

Enjoy an included breakfast buffet this morning – the perfect fuel for our day of touring castles and craters in Upper Death Valley. This morning, we'll visit Ubehebe Crater. Around 6,000 years ago a powerful volcanic explosion created a crater a half mile in diameter and more than 500 feet deep. Ubehebe Crater is the largest in a series of craters found in the area. This afternoon our geographer-guide will provide commentary on local and regional history, geology, legends and wildlife as we tour Death Valley National Park. Today, visit the castle of the desert and learn of the Valley's greatest legend – "Death Valley Scotty". On a 1939 living history
